WINNERS SELECTED IN POSTER CONTEST

E. Hopper, New York, Receives First Prize for Design "Smash the Hun."

JOHN O. TODAHL SECOND

Every Shipyard Worker in the Country Will See Inspiring Work of Artists.

States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet noon by the board of judges after long that they have made a real contribution and careful study and comparison of 1,175 entries submitted in the contest from every State'in the Union. The awards carry with them prises in four classes of contestants aggregating Dr. Charles A. Eaton of this city is the head, and the distinction of having beaten in a big field of rivals in a free for all competition the keynote of which was personal service for a Gov-ernment activity in times of war. As the result of all the work that As the result of all the work that has been done by artists, many of whom never before had a chance to do work for a nation, Dr. Eaton and his coworkers, who are stirring up the fighting and working blood of the men in the shippards and in industrial plants turning the stirring of the party of the stirring to the shippards. shippards and in industrial parts ing out material for shippards, have obtained a lot of splendid posters which they are satisfied will go far to speed shipbuilding. It is the purpose of the National Ser-It is the purpose of the National Service Section to have the prize winning posters and perhaps others that didn't win prizes reproduced and distributed broadcast among the shipyarda, so that they may tell their stories to the workers and transfer their "punch" to musand brain. When Dr. Eaton was informed that the final awards had been made he is-sued this statement: "I desire to express my personal ap-preciation to THE NEW YORK SUN for the patriotic service it has rendered the United States Shipping Board, Emergency Fleet Corporation, in developing the poster contest. No single undertak-ing since I have been head of the Na-tional Service Section has enlisted so many people over so wide an area in the great cause of ship production.

"These hundreds of posters are a revelation not only of the artistic resources of our people, but of the profound moral awakening which has knit the American people into a new unity of purpose for the winning of the war.

"I wish also to thank the judges for their painstaking and fair decisions. I share with them the regret that it was nation wide competition which the Na-not possible to award a larger number tional Service Section of the United of prizes because of the unusual ex-cellence of so many of the posters. States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet of "Posters," was the chairman, at the nclusion of its third session in the hip Poster Gallery, somewhere up-wn." So keen was the interest of the "Ship Poster Gallery, somewhere up-town." So keen was the interest of the judges in the great collection and so anxious were they not to make errors judgment that the great majority them visited the gallery alone and in twos and threes on divers days between assesions to inspect and study the entries. Most of the work of the judges—and it was a labor of love for their country— was done with the thermometer up in the 90s. One session of the entire body lasted three hours in a torrid atmosphere

> Task of Judges a Hard One. The 'best posters to speed up ship-

Mr. Price's colleagues on the board were: J. H. Chapin, art editor, Scribner's Magazine; A. R. Parkhurst, Jr., National Service Section, United States Shipping Board: Arthur W. Dow, pro-fessor of fine arts, Teachers College, Co-lumbia University; Edward Harding, chairman of executive board, National chairman of executive board, National Committee of Patriotic Societies: Ray Greenleaf, art director, Ward & Gow, advertising; Horace Brown, art critic; Percival S. Sparks, poster collector.

Public Exhibition Promised.

A. R. Parkhurst, Jr., secretary of the National Service Section of the United States Shipping Board, said last night that it would not be possible to arrange for an exhibition of the posters in this city before a fortnight at least. The this city before a fortnight at least. The exhibit will be made up of the prize winners and a large number of selected entries. Later the collection may be sent to libraries and museums in other cities throughout the United States for exhibition purposes.

Dr. Eaton's section is planning to publish a catalogue of the posters for distribution purposes among winners.

publish a catalogue of the posters for distribution purposes among shipbuilding plants and for use at public exhibitions. The catalogue will contain a general foreword on the competition, together with critical comments on the posters, by Matlack Price, chairman of the board of judges. Mr. Price is vice-chairman of the National Committee of Patricit Societies, which conserved its Patriotic Societies, which cooperated in carrying on the contest. Edward Harding, chairman of the executive board of the National Committee of Patriotic Societies, said last night designs are extremely gratifying to the officers of the committee and to its representative societies. It is felt that in the whole field of publicity few methods reach the heart of the shipworkers better than posters. New posters must constantly be put out and must be sdapted to changing conditions from time to time. This collection of posters will be invaluable."

Mr. Harding said that the National
